ATTENTION EMPLOYERS: Have You Received A "Notice of Employee Eligibility for Premium Assistance"?

Health Exchanges Must Notify Employers About Employees Eligible for Subsidies: HHS

State health insurance exchanges will be required to notify employers when any of their employees are determined to be eligible for health insurance premium subsidies, under Department of Health and Human Services (HHS).

The exchange will provide a notice to employers (sample) that identifies by name, the employee who has applied and has been determined by exchange administrators as eligible for premium subsidies.

According to the HHS regulations, the notice will inform employers of their right
